The New Fields.

The Carson Appeal truly says: "Every town in Nevada hears complaints of dull times. Of course times are dull in this State, as, in fact, they are all over this coast. Our Nevada towns have too many non-producers. We have too many men, especially young men, who prefer to hang around the towns to going out in search of work. The saloon, with its attraction of cool Summer drinks, toothsome lunches, pool, billiards, draw-poker, etc., has a fascination for the average young man which is hard these June days to overcome. But then it must be overcome, otherwise the young man's wardrobe will grow sleek and seedy, his account at the saloon will become discouragingly large, and when the snow flies the young man will not be able to select from a very large or a very fine stock of overcoats and ulsters. This is not in the line of fancy picture drawing. True, there are not many positions of ranch overseers or book keeping chasing young men down, but there is plenty of work in Nevada for those who want to work. The Nevada rancher is willing to give employment to honest and industrious young men, ignoring the white tramp on the score of self protection. New mining camps are being opened in Southern and Eastern Nevada, and save on the Comstock the mining outlook was never more promising than now. Up in Storey county the exodus of young, or unmarried men, began with the dull times on the Comstock, and the percentage of idle young men is now small there. The example in Storey county might be profitably followed by some of the young men of Ormsby and other Western Nevada counties."

Southern Democrats Discouraged.

The Southern Democrats in Congress have been in receipt of letters for days from prominent Democrats in their respective States, conveying the alarming intelligence that great distrust exists in the Democratic party in the South respecting the Fall elections. The impression, they stated, seemed to prevail among the Democrats that the coalitions fostered by the Administration in the Southern States would carry everything before them. The Democrats said that they were becoming disheartened. Thereupon the Democrats in the House realized the necessity of reasserting their party friends, and canvassed among themselves the Democratic chances at the coming election. By close calculation, and throwing out all speculative elements, they came to the pleasing conclusion that the Democrats would have a majority of twelve in the next House. This statement was solemnly and formally made up and transmitted to the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of the South. Nothing has yet been heard of the effect of this tonic.

Vital Statistics of Army Officers.

An army officer has prepared a statement from the records of the department showing what chances an officer in the regular services has of reaching sixty-two years—the retiring age—to say nothing of sixty-four. Of forty-two officers entering the service at nineteen, all but four have died before reaching the age of sixty-two; of 199 entering at twenty-two years, but nine survived at sixty-two; of 120 entering at twenty-five years, but four survived at sixty-two; of forty-six entering at twenty-seven years, but two survived at sixty-two; of sixty-two entering at twenty-nine years, none reached sixty-two; of twenty-four who entered at thirty-two and thirty-six, none reached sixty-two; of 1,393 officers whose ages were on record who entered the service at various ages from seventeen to sixty-one, but eighty-four ever attained the age of sixty-two.

Another Balloon Project.

The project of crossing the Atlantic in a balloon has again been revived. A prominent Eastern aeronaut proposes to cross the big water in an airship larger than any heretofore constructed, and supplied with a light but secure boat, which is to take the place of the usual wicker-work car. The cloth covering is to be of triple thickness, with a view of preventing the escape of gas and of strengthening the balloon. Drags and water-anchors are to be used to assist in keeping the airship in the right direction, and also to prevent the boat from overturning. The cost of the outfit is placed at $15,000. It is proposed to start from the vicinity of Washington, where it is thought a current of air can be struck which will carry the balloon to the other side of the Atlantic.

Judge Temple has decided the famous Gold Run case in favor of the California farmers. The hydraulic miners must go.

COW BOYS.

Something About the Famous Desperadoes of the Frontier.

The cow boy of the Great West is a distinct character and type of frontiersman, produced by the Texas cattle trade which began in Kansas soon after the war, with headquarters at Abilene, Kansas. The trade originated from the necessity of having a good shipping point for cattle near the Missouri river, and at the same time contiguous to a limited range, and although since that time, as railroads have been built, the cattle trade has shifted over the State, the cow boy, while increasing in numbers, has lost none of that distinctive character and method which has made his name a terror upon the frontier and linked him inseparably with the history of all new cattle towns in the West. His reckless daring and devilry have marked out for him a distinct and startling page in the history of the border. After a new town has got a good fair start and begins to boom, it only needs a good cow boy raid to open out a first-class and well stocked graveyard. The cow boy has no hope of heaven or fear of hell.

Yet the real employment of the cow boy is innocent enough, and consists of riding a small wiry mustang of bucking proclivities, and following an immense herd of cattle over an unlimited range, his special duties being to see that none of the cattle stray away and to steal any stray animals which may be unbranded and brand them with his employer's name. When sober he naturally shuns civilization. He pursues his herds upon the western plains of Kansas, among the gentle slopes of the Cherokee country, in the Indian Territory, along the lone some deserts of the Pan Handle, amid the foothills of Colorado, and in wilds of New Mexico and Arizona, inured to the saddle, exposed to all kinds of weather and all sorts of people, from the Greaser to the Apache. To all appearances the cow boy is "the mildest mannered man that ever scuttled a ship or cut a throat." But when the nearest day comes and they reach the nearest town and imbibe some of their "liquid crime" then stand from under, for then they gamble, fight, and shoot at friend or foe.

The typical cow boy wears a white hat with a gilt cord and tassel, high top boots, leather pants, a woolen shirt, a coat and vest. On his heels he wears a pair of jingling Mexican spurs as large round as a tea-cup. When he feels well (and he always does when full of what he calls "Kansas sheep-dip") the average cow boy is a tough man to handle. Armed to the teeth, well mounted and full of his favorite beverage they will dash through the streets of a town, yelling like Comanches. This they call "cleaning out a town." After repeating this several times, and before the stampeded citizens recover to repel the attack, they dash away and are seldom, if ever captured. All frontier towns that have ever had any Texas cattle trade have had the same experience. In 1874 the cow boys in large numbers attempted to raid Wichita, and were only driven off by a very determined resistance on the part of our shotgun brigade. For a long time the cow boys held possession of the town of Abilene, Kansas, until Wild Bull, the Indian fighter, and scout, became Marshal of the town. Wild Bull killed six of the most desperate cow boys in Abilene in one night. Thereafter he was respected and feared by the cow boy element. Wild Bull was called last murdered by a cow boy, who got the drop on him, and died as he had lived, "with his boots on." Last Summer the cow boys from the Indian Territory raided Hennessey, Kansas, and in the affray which followed killed a beautiful and accomplished young lady of that village. A few weeks since the cow boys raided Caldwell, Kansas, killing Mike Meagher, the Mayor of the city, and dangerously wounding several of the citizens of that place. After the fight they made good their escape into the Indian Territory, and have not yet been brought to justice. They are, indeed blessings which brighten as they take their flight. Mike Meagher was as brave a man as ever sighted a rifle. Many a town on the frontier has started its first graveyard just after a cow boy raid. Wild Bull and Mike Meagher are only two of many victims. Their name is legion. Among the cow boys in the Caldwell raid was Comanche Bill, at one time a noted scout and Indian fighter, now a renegade and fugitive from justice and associate of the worst characters who congregate in the Indian Territory.

Eighteen Dividends in Four Months.

(S. F. Bulletin.)

Many remarkable things in the way of dividends have been performed by Mining Companies. With many of these organizations, it is either a feast or a famine, a panic or a picnic. Of late the shareholders in a large number of Nevada mines, particularly those of the Comstock Lode, have felt the reverse to which all mines are liable. It may help them to bear their disappointment, or to feel it more keenly, by calling their attention to what other mines are doing. When the Consolidated Virginia and California mines disbursed their million dollar dividends among the stockholders every month, the mining industry was thought to be the best kind of business that one could prosecute. When the Bodie mine paid three dividends in one month, no one could say enough in the praise of the Bodie mine. The long and prosperous career of the Eureka mine at Grass Valley is still remembered with gratitude by some who are to-day enjoying the fruits of an ownership in that property. The prosperity which has attained the Eureka Consolidated is still a source of gratitude to the old shareholders, some of whom have grown rich from that source alone. The large number of dividends paid to the few stockholders of the Idaho mine at Grass Valley has placed them above want.

These and other instances of prosperity in mining are the hope and stay of those who now feel the frequent calls upon them for money for development purposes. California, Nevada, Utah, Dakota and Arizona have furnished cases of long-continued, large and frequent dividends, but it has been left to Colorado to show up a mine that has paid more dividends within a short period than any other in the United States. The Evening Star mine at Leadville paid four dividends this month. It paid six dividends in March and four respectively in February and January. It likewise paid three dividends last December. The mine only commenced paying dividends the latter part of 1880. We believe it was first opened that year. The company was organized with a capital of $500,000 in 50,000 shares of $10 each. This entire capital was returned the first year. The dividend record of the Evening Star mine to date is as follows:

	No.	Amount.
In 1880.....	4	$100,000
In 1881.....	21	535,000
In 1882.....	18	450,000
Totals.....	43	$1,075,000

This is a remarkable record, considering the character of the mine, which carries but little gold, with a very large percentage of lead mixed with the silver extracted. Its means for reducing ores are insignificant compared with some appliances on the Comstock. The dividends paid this year were disbursed on the following dates:

Dividends.

	No.	Amount.
January 15.....	2	$50,000
January 27.....	2	50,000
February 15.....	2	50,000
February 27.....	2	50,000
March 8.....	2	50,000
March 15.....	2	50,000
March 27.....	2	50,000
April 11.....	2	50,000
April 28.....	2	50,000
Totals.....	18	$450,000

Other mines can show a larger aggregate amount of dividends paid in the same interval, but we have yet to hear of the mine that has paid an equal number of dividends in the same time. There is very little said about this mine in the summary of Colorado mines published from time to time in the papers. The last reference that has come under our notice was printed in the Leadville Democrat of March 11th. We know the bullion product of the same mine for January was $118,810. The extract from the Democrat says: "The output from the mine is undoubtedly heavy, but is for the most part taken from developed and laid out ground. In drift No. 15, which is north and east of main stopes, a fine body of mineral has been encountered, seven feet in thickness, and with excellent prospects ahead." The Morning Star adjoins the Evening Star, but is practically owned by the same parties. The Morning Star has paid seven dividends of $415,000, the last being paid April 13th.

The Size of the Comstock.

(S. F. Bulletin.)

The Comstock mines have had many ups and downs in the last twenty years. In the palmy days of 1875, the lode looked immense. At that time every thing took on huge proportions. The glass is now reversed, and everything looks very small. The mirror held up to the public yesterday in the Stock Board exhibited general exhaustion all along the line from Utah on the north to Benton on the south. Here is a list of the minimum market values of the shares yesterday:

These mines are not selling for the assessment money paid in on their account during the year 1881. There were 54 assessment mines in Storey county, Nevada, last year, and the total amount levied in the way of assessments on those mines was $5,355,800. That amount was probably not all collected, but in the 28 mines given in the above list there were but a few forfeitures. Utah collected $120,000 last year, and to-day it is selling for about one-sixth of that amount. Sierra Nevada collected $400,000 last year; Union Consolidated, $300,000; Mexican, $302,400; Ophir, $201,000. These four mines are worth to-day but little more than the value of the money they collected from their stockholders last year. California and Consolidated Virginia each collected $162,000 last year. The values put in the above table on Julia, Imperial, Caledonia and Silver Hill are those at which they were last sold, but it is doubtful if they would bring those figures to-day. Overman is given at 25¢ price before the last assessment of 25¢ per share went on. The market value of the whole number of shares in the above 28 mines to-day is only a little over $3,000,000, or about 75¢ per share all round for good, bad and indifferent. These 28 mines collected $5,018,200 from their stockholders in 1881. Some feel that it is like throwing good money after bad to pay any more drafts of this kind.

General Beaver, regular Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, is confident of his election.

Senator Anthony has been re-elected U. S. Senator from Rhode Island. This makes him a third-term.

The Stone in the Road.

There was a Duke once who disguised himself and placed a great rock in the middle of the road near his palace. Next morning a peasant came that way with his ox-cart. "Oh, these lazy people!" said he, "there is this stone lying right in the middle of the road, and no one will take to put it out of the way." And so Hans went on, scolding about the laziness of the people. Next came a gay soldier along. His head was held so far back that he didn't notice the stone and so he stumbled over it. He began to stomp the country people around there for leaving a huge rock in the road. Then he went on. Next came a company of merchants. When they came to the stone the road was so narrow that they had to go off in single file on the other side. One of them cried out: "Did anybody ever see the like of that big stone lying here the whole of the morning, and not a single person stopping to take it away?" It lay there for three weeks, and no one tried to move it. Then the Duke sent around to all the people on his lands to meet where this rock lay, as he had something to tell them. The day came, and a great crowd gathered. Old Hans, the farmer, was there, and so were the merchants. A horn was heard, and a splendid cavalcade came galloping up. The Duke got down from his horse, and began to speak to the people gathered there. "My friends, it was I who put this stone here three weeks ago. Every passer-by has left it just where it was, and has scolded his neighbor for not taking it out of the way." He stooped down and lifted up the stone. Directly underneath it was a round hollow, and in the hollow was a small leather bag, that all might see what was written on it: "For him who lifts up the stone." He untied the bag, and turned it upside down, and out upon the stone fell a beautiful gold ring, and twenty large bright gold coins. So they all lost the prize because they had not learned the lesson, or formed the habit of diligence.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Whoop up the 4th! Everybody help. The weather was perfectly lovely yesterday.

A missus' chain lost. See 50-cent column. Sheriff Walker will be Grand Marshal on the 4th.

Beef-steak is now counted game—at least it is dear. Charley Moeller was down from Steamboat yesterday.

Prepare to open your "sack" to make the State Fair a success.

Charley Becker has just had his salmon newly kalsomined.

No. 16 has been sent to the Wadsworth shops for repairs.

Summer showers may be looked for as a feature of the Summer season.

Gov. Kinkead and staff have been invited to attend our 4th of July celebration.

Commissioner Gallagher, of Storey, was a passenger for California last night.

The C. P. engineers are now at Wadsworth laying out the land for the new shops.

The crops in Pleasant Valley, near Steamboat, are looking splendidly. The first crop is ready to cut.

If you are wise, you will go and see Chase & Thyes. They have everything nice that saloon men can devise.

The sum of $358 50 has been subscribed to the 4th of July fund. Between $400 and $500 will be raised.

L. J. Flint, Nels. Hammond, M. C. Lake and L. W. Lee, are expected home to-night from Silver Glance District.

The rides and amusements of the Reno Guard were distributed to members of the company at the armory last night.

The court house yard has been sown with lawn grass. The Sheriff is doing his best to make the place look decent.

The President has sent to the Senate the name of Rollin M. Daggett for Minister to the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Daggett's many friends will rejoice at the compliment. The salary is $7,500 per year.

The court house will soon be surrounded by almost as many kinds of fences as there are colors in the rainbow. In the rear will be the stone; iron in front, and the wooden picket on the sides. Who was the architect?

Bob Lowery, of Virginia, was taken to Marysville last night, and from his looks we do not think he will ever return alive to this State. Inflammatory rheumatism and Bright's disease of the kidneys are the ills with which he is afflicted.

Albion Victorious.

Judge Rives, of Eureka, yesterday decided in favor of the Albion in the injunction suits. The Albion can now go ahead and develop its ground.

California Fruits.

Fruits from W. J. Wilson's celebrated Oak Cottage Garden can be had at Blakely & Stoddard's. Some of the finest berries grown in the country come from these gardens, as will be attested by an examination of the stock at Blakely & Stoddard's. The first blackberries of the season arrived yesterday.

Soap Bubble Social.

In order to raise money to buy a piano the Women's Christian Temperance Union intend to give a soap bubble social on Friday evening of next week. Some of the prominent men of the town will blow for a prize pair of chickens from 'Hog's ranch. The blowers will also make short speeches. More particulars later.

Masonic Election.

At the meeting of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Masons held Monday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: W. Timpien, Grand High Priest; Robert H. Elam, Deputy Grand Priest; A. L. Fitzgerald, Grand King; J. E. McDonald, Grand Scribe; H. P. Mason, Grand Treasurer; J. D. Hammond, Grand Secretary.

Insane Notes.

The Insane Commissioners held a meeting in Carson yesterday.

A Lindley was awarded the contract for supplying the Asylum with groceries and tobacco; John F. DeVoy, wood; Osburn & Shoemaker, drugs; L. J. Flint, meat.

The removal of the patients was discussed, and details arranged. The special train will leave Stockton in the afternoon and arrive in Reno early the next morning.

Mitchell's Pleasure Party.

This attractive company, which appears at the Theater Saturday night played at Ogden the other evening, and the estimate of its performance on the part of Pilot, is appended in full: "The pretty faces and beautiful dressing of the ladies were in themselves an inducement, but, aside from these attractions, the acting of all the members of the company was as good as could be wished. The music was bright and lively, and was well sung. "Our Goblins" is without any particular plot, or arrangement. The rehearsal of a new piece in the first is very funny and the actors did everything that could be done, with the mass of amusing absurdities that they had to present. One felt ridiculous for laughing at such nonsense, but laughed all the same, laughed easily. Mr. R. F. Graham as Cobb, is particularly funny in his extravagance. Mrs. Cobb, as presented by Miss Leonora Bradley, proved a most able helpmate. Misses Carson and Barrie did some very nice acting and sweet singing. The gentlemen were all their parts called for. Mr. Norcross possesses a fine bass voice and showed it to advantage in "Rocked in The Cradle of the Deep," which was as appropriate to the rest of the piece, as any one thing in the whole was to anything else. Mr. Wilson, as Silvermine, exhibited a genius for light burlesque comedy, that was very pleasing. However absurd he might be, he never degenerated into coarseness or raised a laugh at the expense of decency. His scene with Mrs. Cobb was particularly good, while the affecting incident so beautifully worded in the scene with that sweet cherub, Daphne, brought tears to many an eye. Mr. Calico made all that could be made out of Warbler, and did some sweet singing, especially as Franz, the Minstrel. Taking it as a whole, while there is nothing in the piece that appeals to any intellectual feeling, it is brim full and running over with bright, sparkling fun. The ladies and gentlemen who take the different parts, act like ladies and gentlemen, and to all who wish to spend an evening, pleasantly, and have a jolly good time, we say, and we say it boldly, go and see Mitchell's Pleasure Party in "Our Goblins."

The Nevada State Fair.

The Candelaria True Fissure is undoubtedly prompted by the best of motives in publishing the subjoined, but it is mistaken in one or two of its conclusions. The Trustees are not idle, but are doing all that is possible to be done at this time. They may have made a mistake in fixing the date, but it is too late now to remedy it. Simply that our people may know how the Candelaria paper views the subject, we append its remarks:

Nothing has been done this year by the Directors toward holding a State Fair. It is not judicious to let time pass until they find themselves unable to attend to that important matter in a manner it is deserving of. The last State Fair was only a partial success because it was held too late in the season. Nevada's early Fall weather is usually chilly and blustery, and thus deters people from attending gatherings of any kind; or if they do attend, they vow it will be the last time. It would seem that the Fair in this State could be held as early as the 18th of August and no later than the 11th of September. These dates will give ample time for parties on the California side of the mountains to bring their stock over to this State Fair and get them back to Sacramento in time for the State Fair there, which will probably commence this year on the 18th of September. The objection to an early State Fair in Nevada can only be made on account of the late season at which the fruits of the State ripen. Exhibitors of these would, of course, prefer the latter part of October in order to make a worthy display. But precedent has proven that a Nevada State Fair cannot be made a success if the time of holding it is deferred until late in the season, and the Directors and Managers will do well to view the matter in that light and take steps accordingly.

An Excursion to Salt Lake.

W. E. Davidson announces that he has perfected arrangements for an excursion from Eureka to Salt Lake, leaving Eureka Thursday morning, June 22. Tickets are good to return on any train up to July 10, and the low price at which they are sold, viz: $30 for the round trip, places them within the reach of all. The number is limited to fifty, a large portion of which is already taken. This excursion is gotten up for those who wish to attend the Spring meeting of the Salt Lake Driving Park Association, which commences June 24th and continues until after the 4th of July. Purse to the amount of $11,000 are offered, and in addition to this Jack Gilmer has matched one of his trotters against a Colorado horse for $5,000 a side.

The people of Iowa are to vote on the 26th of June on an amendment to their State Constitution forbidding the sale of all intoxicants. The fight is already getting very hot, and party lines are largely ignored. The principal paper in the State, the Des Moines Register, and a majority of the rural weeklies favor the measure. It is a significant fact that the Germans are as much divided as the native citizens. Both sides are doing their best and the excitement will increase until the day for voting is past.

The Auburn Mill.

The Austin Reville favors Reno and the Auburn mill with the following good notice: "It is stated that the Auburn mill at Reno is to be put in complete order forthwith, and started into operation as a custom mill, reducing ores from Candelaria and elsewhere out on the Carson & Colorado Railroad. The Auburn mill is one of the oldest established and most complete in the State, being fitted for working ores by the Stetefeldt and other processes. Its water power is supplied by a ditch from Truckee river. That river could supply power for several such mills as the Auburn, and with the railroad facilities for transportation still further increased by the Nevada & Oregon Railroad, ores may some day be brought to Reno for reduction from all the four cardinal points of the compass. Smelting works might also be advantageously established at Reno."

Advertising Medium.

The advertising columns of the JOURNAL afford an excellent opportunity to our readers to study out where purchases of all kinds can be made on the most advantageous terms. All classes of goods can there be found advertised from a suit of clothes or nice silk dress to the daintiest ornament in the jewelry line. The JOURNAL reaches nearly every family as well as business house in the county, and, therefore, advertisers seek its columns that the public may know what they have for sale.

Tom Barnett intends to give the people a benefit, no more nor less than a grand clearance sale of his immense stock of boots and shoes, furnishing goods, etc. The sale will commence on the 4th of June and continue ninety days.

Is there anything more refreshing than a nice hot bath before you dress up? Go to Peckner's and try his hot, cold and shower baths; clean tubs; plenty of towels.

Mothers! Mothers! Mothers!!!
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer at once—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. Jan 16-19-30 W.F.W.
